

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barnett Honor Their Sister With A Pretty Dance

By OLLIE F. LANDREN.

ONE of the prettiest of the season's dances was given on Sunday evening in Community hall, Temple Mt. Sinai, when Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barnett entertained in honor of their sister, Miss Jennie Barnett, of New York city. The presence of four other charming visitors in the city also added further to the interest of the occasion. These visitors included: Miss Bernice Brown, Miss Gertrude Krawmer, Miss Ruth Wang and Miss May Landren.

The hall for the pretty ceremony to Miss Barnett was decorated with American beauty roses and other fragrant cut flowers and music for the dancing hours was furnished by an orchestra of several pieces. Punch and cake and confections were served from a table, suitably appointed.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnett, with the honor guests, were in the receiving line to greet the guests, numbering 100. Many smart frocks were worn by the fair maid and matrons present at the party, among them Mrs. Barnett, in all black, her gown of satin with overdrapery of black net. Her corsage bouquet was of Cecil Brunner roses. Miss Barnett was charming in a frock of satin, salmon pink in tint and modeled with green and white and a small white tulle. Worn with this lovely costume was a corsage of Cecil Brunner roses. Miss Brown was dressed in a medium gown of navy blue, charming, while Miss Krawmer's gown was of peach blue tulle velvet. Miss Ruth Wang was dressed in white silk with tulle.

Old style full plate. Roofless.

Look at these two plates and use your own reasoning. The roofless has sections on both sides (1), soft rubber next to your gums. Designed to get in immediately after extraction. It does not touch the hard bone in the roof of the mouth, therefore, it settles with the gums and makes its own bed. No full roof plate can compare with the fit of this plate, as it settles into its bed, lighter, more tongue room, clearer speech.

Dr. Williams has been making this plate for ten years, and is thoroughly familiar with its construction. Made only by us in El Paso.

Gen. and Mrs. Howze At Fort Bliss Entertain With A Bridge Dinner

YELLOW roses were the beautiful decoration for the bridge dinner given on Friday evening by Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Robert L. Howze at their attractive quarters at Fort Bliss. Bowls and vases of the golden blossoms were utilized about the reception room and centering the table for the dinner was a silver loving cup of the roses. Yellow candles burning in silver holders gave the further pretty effect featuring the golden rods of decoration. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Coler, Mrs. Joseph P. Williams, Mrs. E. E. Neff, Mrs. James Vance, Miss Harriet Howze, Col. and Mrs. William Gardenhire, Col. George T. Langhorne, Col. Henry Newbold and P. M. Merrihew. Bridge was played following the dinner service.

Plays Feature Children's Program Given By The College Woman's Club

A SPECIAL program for children was given on Saturday afternoon at a meeting of the College Woman's club at the Women's clubhouse. It is attractively decorated with Christmas motifs for the various entertainments of the holidays being given there from time to time and these decorations of Christmas trees, Christmas greens and other emblems of the happy season were in place on Saturday afternoon for the entertainment. Mrs. Herbert D. Field is president of the College Woman's club and presided at the meeting on Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Kinkel directed the giving of Christmas plays. The Christmas plays, written by her four children and given by them, two young friends and their grandmothers, were a feature of the program.

The play was cleverly written and well presented and aroused much interest both for its cleverness and the youthfulness of its writers and actors.

Miss Ruth Endicott, in charge of the children's branch of the public library, read "The Story of the White Bear," which delighted the audience.

The interest and devotion of the El Paso School for Girls gave a Spanish play, entitled "La Noche Buena," which was a feature of the program.

Miss Sylvia Galante, teacher of Spanish in the school, the pupils taking part in the play, it was a feature of the program.

Each scene was interpreted in Spanish, prior to its being given in Spanish, by Mary Josephine Evans, who acted as interpreter.

Mrs. Santa Claus, Marion Ward; Mrs. Santa Claus, Kate Lovell; landlady, Mrs. Santa Claus, Jeanette.

Children of the poor mother, (Angela) Lorraine Cracker; (Helen) Betty Hocking and (Dorothy) Edith Ann Walling; a wealthy best friend (Helen) Lorraine Cracker; and her son (Juan), Louise.

Following the play a chorus from the El Paso School for Girls sang under the direction of Miss Nellie Christman, the chorus included Miss Paula Buntin, Miss Lavinia Buntin, Miss Marie Buntin, Miss Gretchen Buntin and Miss Irene Buntin and their number was very much appreciated.

Mrs. Otto Wagner left several days ago for New York city and thence to Switzerland to visit her daughter, who is married to a young man in the Philippine Islands to join Maj. Wagner, who sails in a few weeks for his new station there. Maj. Wagner leaves in a few days for San Francisco, where he will spend the holidays prior to sailing for his new station.

Maj. and Mrs. Wagner were prominent in the social life of the city and the post and will be missed by a large circle of friends made during their stay here.

Mrs. G. A. Martin and son, Christopher Allen, left Sunday morning for Berkeley, Calif., where Mrs. Martin will enter the California university at the January semester, for further study of music.

Mrs. Joseph L. Kopf has gone to Toledo, Ohio, to attend the funeral of her mother, Mrs. F. J. Kopf, who died Sunday at the old homestead.
